Dear Board Members:

On behalf of the ABA National EEO Committee, we would like to invite you to the Annual EEO Government Liaison Meeting in Washington, DC. As you may know, the ABA has been hosting this meeting for senior US policymakers for decades. It provides a forum for a free exchange of ideas between senior members of the employer, employee, labor and in-house bars with senior US Government officials, all without press coverage or participation and without attribution. The invitees are strictly limited to facilitate ease of discussion. The event begins on Sunday evening with a cocktail reception. The program will be on Monday (full-day) and Tuesday (half-day). You are not expected to attend the entire meeting, but you are certainly welcome to if your schedule permits. We will schedule topic sessions around your availability.

We have two target dates available for a venue to be selected in Downtown Washington, DC.

The prospective dates are: January 9-11 or January 23-25.

Please let me know i) if you would like to attend, and
 ii) if these dates are available for your schedule.

Your earliest response will be greatly appreciated

Kevin – sorry for the delay in responding. If the dates are indeed January 23 – 25, that probably knocks me out. I agreed some time ago to speak at Stanford Law School on the 24th, so I'm afraid the logistics would be too hard (and I am too old to take the redeye back!). Good luck with the meeting.

Your Hotel Stay

We will cover the costs of your hotel room, including taxes, at the Hilton Portland Downtown or its sister hotel next door, the Duniway.

Please do not contact the hotel directly for your reservation, even if you plan on staying for longer than the conference. We will book additional nights, before or after the conference, as indicated on your form (linked below), but those will be billed to you upon check out. The ULA will not cover amenities such as movies or room service. If you have already booked rooms with the hotel, please cancel them and use our form instead.

Please fill out the form LINKED HERE to provide the details of your planned hotel stay.

Conference Dates

The conference will begin at 5:30 pm PDT on Monday, May 16, 2022 and will last through midday on Wednesday, May 18, 2022.

Other Travel Expenses

The ULA will reimburse reasonable travel expenses, including airfare and/or ground travel. We ask that you use the cheapest airfare possible, and we do not reimburse for meals or entertainment. You will be provided a speaker reimbursement form, to which you must attach your supporting receipts. Reimbursement requests will not be considered until after the conference, and must be received no later than August 31, 2022.

Your Session

You are scheduled to present during the morning plenary session, along with NLRB Chair McFerran and Member Wilcox, on Tuesday, May 17, from 8:45 a.m. to 9:30 a.m. PDT. Your presentation will be preceded by that of NLRB General Counsel Abruzzo. Please see the attached tentative schedule in brief for more information about the conference.

Visual Aids

If you choose to use visual aids (typically slides) during your presentation, please send a copy of any slides or other media to Alex Roe and (b) (6) by May 6, 2022. If you are using video or other special effects in your Power Point, please let us know because we will otherwise load the slides as a pdf and those effects will not come through.

Thank you again for contributing to the success of the conference and the experience of ULA members.

Good afternoon,

You are receiving this email because you are on the hotel's list of confirmed reservations as well as our list of speakers or staff for whom we are covering all or part of your stay.

You should have received an email from the hotel with the check in and out dates for your reservation. Please review that information and make sure it's consistent with your plans. It should include your entire stay, even any nights not covered by the ULA.

If you did not receive a confirmation or if the dates are incorrect, please let me know ASAP.

Many thanks,
Alex

While I would be happy to call into something on Tuesday, I suspect that would be less than ideal for your conference – just let me know if that would be helpful.

Dear Conference Guests and Speakers:

Thank you for joining us in Portland for the 2022 ULA Annual Conference. We are excited to see everyone, but we are mindful of the recent uptick in COVID cases. Therefore, we ask that you take a moment to review the protocols below.

- All attendees who are medically eligible must be up-to-date in their COVID vaccination per CDC guidelines. For most people, this means the full initial vaccine dose(s) plus at least one booster.
- Attendees will be required to wear a mask when attending any conference event (except while eating or drinking).
- Please wear a mask while in public transportation venues as you travel to the conference.
- If you have tested positive for COVID within ten days prior to the conference, please do not attend in-person.
- Please test yourself prior to traveling to Portland and each day while at the conference. We ask that you bring enough rapid tests with you so you can self-test each day.
- If you experience COVID symptoms during the conference, please leave the meeting space. We recommend that you bring a laptop or tablet so that you may attend virtually from your hotel room in case this happens.

- You may find it helpful to consult the CDC quarantine and isolation calculator in assessing your travel plans.

If you have any questions, please contact me or (b) (6), who is copied here.
Thank you for adhering to these guidelines. We look forward to seeing you!

Members Prouty and Wilcox,

I'm just following up on my questions from earlier this week (which I've included below) about the format of your presentation, the seating arrangement, and whether you'll be using a PowerPoint at the ULA conference next week.

Please let me know your thoughts when you have a chance. And I'm happy to jump on the phone to discuss if that would be helpful.

Chair McFerran and Members Prouty and Wilcox,

Greetings and I hope you all are well. I am going to be introducing you at the plenary at next week's ULA conference in Portland, OR. As a reminder, the plenary session takes place next Tuesday, May 17 from 8:45 - 9:30 a.m. Pacific in the Grand Ballroom at the Hilton Portland Downtown. We ask that you arrive at the plenary room at 7:30 a.m. for a brief technical check before the session begins.

I have a few questions for you related to presentation. Because they are straightforward, I thought I'd send them in an email, but I am also happy to hop on the phone to talk this through if that would be easier. Here are the questions:

- 1) Most importantly, how would you like to structure the presentation? I suggest that you each speak for a few minutes, then I will ask you a couple of questions (which I will send you in advance) to get the more informal part of the presentation started, and then you can take a few questions from the audience with the remaining time. But if there is an alternate format that you would prefer just let me know.
- 2) Seating and microphones: We plan to have the three of you sitting at a long table with three mikes. However, if you prefer we can arrange for a podium or even for wireless clip-on mikes if you'd like to stand or move around the room.
- 3) Finally, do you plan to use a powerpoint or other visuals? If so, we'll make sure to have the appropriate a/v set up.

Thanks again for agreeing to appear next week. And, again, happy to jump on the phone if you'd like to talk any of this through.

Best regards,
Matt

Thanks. I just double-checked and we had our signals crossed on our end on whether the Chairman would join remotely (I thought no; apparently it in fact hasn't been settled). I am going to check with her now whether she would like to join remotely next week and then circle back to the both of you to let you know and to then arrange a call.

Apologies for the confusion and for filling up your inbox. I'll be back in touch shortly.

This looks great! Thanks for pulling this together.

I think what we should do is gather in person after the technical check on Tuesday morning at 7:30 am Pacific and call you and we can go over any last minute questions or issues.

That said, happy to continue to email or to hop on a call this evening or weekend if anyone feels it would be helpful.

All,

I am happy to report that Chair McFerran will be joining us virtually for the plenary on Tuesday.

Now that we're set in that regard, I would be happy to arrange a time for us all to speak briefly by phone about the session. However, I am also aware that everyone is busy and that time is short. I could speak at 5:30 or later today, or pretty much anytime this weekend. (I'm flying Monday morning).

Alternatively, we can get organized by email and then meet in person either Monday evening or Tuesday morning in Portland (linking in Lauren by phone). In case we decide to go in that direction, I'll provide the following basic outline now:

- The session is Tuesday from 8:45 - 9:30, so a total of 45 minutes.
- I will introduce each of you briefly and then give you the floor. If you each speak for 10 minutes, that will leave 10-15 minutes for questions from the audience.
- I will prepare a few questions to prompt discussion in the event we do not have immediate questions from the audience. However, I think that is very unlikely.
- I understand there will not be a PowerPoint and I'm just going to assume that sitting at a table with microphones is fine with everyone.

All of this subject to change at your request, just let me know. And please let me know if you prefer to try to talk this evening or this weekend, or whether we should just get together once in Portland.

Dear Lauren, Gwynne and Dave:

Thank you very much for taking the time to come to Portland to address our Union Lawyers Alliance members. Despite the constraints on what you can discuss, you did a wonderful job informing our members both about what occurred during the waning days of the Trump Board and how the Board is operating with a new majority.

At a conference in which our members heard from the first female President of the AFL-CIO as well as from a panel of the first female general counsels of national unions, seeing the three of you as well as Jennifer was both fitting and inspiring.

We particularly appreciate the time Gwynne and Dave were able to spend in Portland outside the plenary session. We know it is a thrill for our lawyers, particularly our young lawyers, to meet and interact with Board Members. And

Dear Lauren, Gwynne and Dave:

Thank you very much for taking the time to come to Portland to address our Union Lawyers Alliance members. Despite the constraints on what you can discuss, you did a wonderful job informing our members both about what occurred during the waning days of the Trump Board and how the Board is operating with a new majority.

At a conference during which our members heard from the first female President of the AFL-CIO as well as from a panel of the first female general counsels of national unions, seeing the three of you as well as Jennifer was both fitting and inspiring.

We particularly appreciate the time Gwynne and Dave were able to spend in Portland outside the plenary session. We know it is a thrill for our lawyers, particularly our young lawyers, to meet and interact with Board Members. And
